

Executive Proclamation

Office Of The Governor

WHEREAS, Art Kluckman has an unparalleled record of achievement and public service in Mound City and Campbell County; and,

WHEREAS, Since his days of action in the Muesle Argonne Forest during World War I when he received the Purple Heart and Citation, Art has put God and Country before everything else; and,

WHEREAS, After the war, Art was elected Campbell County Treasurer for two terms. From there, he went into the Auditor's Office for two terms, and in 1932, Art served as Campbell County Relief Director; and,

WHEREAS, Art was a rural letter carrier for 21 years, he served on the Mound City board for 21 years, and was Mound City Postmaster for six years. What's more, Art was the Red Cross Chairman for Campbell County for more than 54 years; and,

WHEREAS, One of Art's greatest thrills in life, however, has got to be the three boys he raised with his wife, Rose Bollinger. Revone has gone on to become president of the Zenith Corporation in Chicago, Warren is district supervisor of 13 branch offices of Proctor and Gamble, and Jerauld is with the Federal Reserve in Washington; and,

WHEREAS, It is no wonder that these men turned out so well. They had Art Kluckman as their role model. Along with his great sense of humor, Art has demonstrated a great concern for the people in his community. He has earned and greatly deserves our respect; and,

WHEREAS, Born on June 17, 1893, Art is now 90 years young. But even though more than 70 years have passed since the war, Art still stands tall and proud. He looks every inch the soldier in a WWI uniform that still fits!; and,

WHEREAS, Today we celebrate the birthday of a great South Dakotan, Art Kluckman. May the years continue to treat him well:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, WILLIAM J. JANKLOW, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim June 26, 1983, as

ATTEST:

Alice Kunder
ALICE KUNDER, SECRETARY OF STATE
